RECORD OF APPOINTMENT OF SUBSTITUTE CLERKS IN FIRST- AND SECOND-CLASS POST OFFICES, 1899-1905

Introduction

On the single roll of this microfilm publication, M2075, is reproduced the two-volume record of appointment of substitute clerks in 1,294 first- and second-class post offices, 1899-1905. These records are part of Records of the Post Office Department, Record Group (RG) 28, and are designated as Entry 79 in Preliminary Inventory (PI) No. 168, Records of the Post Office Department, (Washington, DC: National Archives, 1967). Funds for this microfilm publication were provided by the Malcolm H. Stern-NARA Gift Fund and the National Archives Trust Fund.

Background

The position of Postmaster General was created by the Second Continental Congress, July 26, 1775, and continued by the Confederation Congress following ratification of the Articles of Confederation on March 1, 1781. A temporary Office of Postmaster General was established in the Federal Government by the Post Office Act (1 Stat. 70), September 22, 1789. The permanent Post Office Department was created by the Post Office Act (1 Stat. 232), February 20, 1792. The Postmaster General was made a Cabinet member in 1829, and the Post Office Department was elevated to Cabinet status by another Post Office Act (17 Stat. 283), June 8, 1872. The Post Office Department was abolished, effective July 1, 1971, by the Postal Reorganization Act (84 Stat. 719), August 12, 1970, and its functions were transferred to the U.S. Postal Service (USPS).

As the Department began to perform more services, functions of the Postmaster General were delegated to assistant postmasters. The Office of the Assistant Postmaster General was provided for under the Continental Congress and continued under the Constitution to be an integral part of the postal establishment. For a long period it was known as the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General, but in 1950 its name was changed to the Bureau of Post Office Operations.

Among the most important functions of this bureau were the following: (1) general managing of post offices, including rural-delivery and special-delivery services, authorization of allowances for clerks, and city and village carrier hires; (2) establishing and discontinuing post offices, changing names of post offices, and changing sites of fourth-class post offices; (3) bonding and commissioning of postmasters, appointing postmasters at fourth-class post offices, and nominating and selecting postmasters at first-, second-, and third-class post offices; and (4) handling undeliverable mail.

Records Description

These two volumes contain the names of substitute clerks appointed at first- and second-class post offices, 1899-1905. The post offices are listed in rough alphabetical order; the Table of Contents that follows lists the post offices included in these records. Each volume consists of about 500 pages; each page has two main columns, "Males" and "Females," that are further subdivided into three columns each: Date Appointed; Name; and Appointed Regular. However, due to lack of space, the records of large city post offices may include names of males in the females column.

Listings for some post offices include substitute employees of other types:

Chicago, IL, includes substitute messenger boys (Vol. 1, p. 156), printers (Vol. 1, p. 157), carpenters (Vol. 1, p. 157), messengers who were "transferred" to senior substitute clerks (Vol. 1, the flap between pp. 486-487), stenographers and typewriters (Vol. 1, pp. 158 and 504), and laborers (Vol. 1, p. 504), as well as temporary elevator conductors (Vol. 1, p. 505) and oilers (Vol. 1, p. 505).

New York, NY, includes substitute porters (Vol. 2, pp. 46-47) and laborers (Vol. 2, p. 373).

San Francisco, CA, includes one substitute watchman (Vol. 2, p. 209) and three substitute laborers (Vol. 2, p. 210).

Blank pages in these volumes were not microfilmed unless opposite a page that contains information. In Volume 1, these pages were blank: 40-42, 115, 117-120, 196-200, 228-231, 249-251, 274-275, 302-304, 334, 344-346, 360-362, 377-378, 417-418. In Volume 2, the following pages were blank: 61-64, 81-83, 144, 147-148, 170-172, 254-258, 280-281, 286, 291-292, 341-344, 369-372, 378-386, 388-399, 401-504. In addition, the tops of some pages were annotated with the name of a post office but did not contain any employee names; these pages are noted in the Table of Contents by using "(none)" following the page number.
