Biographical Note

On April 10, 1998, David W. Beier became the Chief Domestic Policy Advisor to Vice President Al Gore, replacing Donald Gips. For three years, Beier advised Vice President Gore on a broad range of domestic policy issues, with a focus on the economy and technology. Prior to his White House service, he spent nine years as vice president of government affairs for Genetech, Inc., one of the largest biotechnology companies in the world. Beier also served for a decade as counsel to the Committee on the Judiciary of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Scope and Content

The files of David W. Beier consist of memoranda, reports, meeting notes, agendas, handwritten notes, letters, newspaper articles, schedules, pamphlets, and printed email messages. Beier's files also include memoranda to/from Domestic Policy Council staff, White House staff, President Clinton, Vice President Gore, and various Cabinet members. Additional files contain correspondence to/from federal agencies and departments, public and private organizations, as well as White House staffers Gregory C. Simon, Donald Gips, and Jim Kohlenberger.

The bulk of the records are related to the economy, e-commerce, the internet, and telecommunications, and include files on bankruptcy reform, business roundtable, consumer financial protection, deficit reduction, entrepreneurship, internet advancement and privacy, e-government, intellectual property, and telecommunication regulation and competition.

Records regarding health care, Medicaid, Medicare, health, aging, AIDS, and the Federal Drug Administration (FDA) pertain to the Quality Interagency Coordination Task Force, the Agency for Health Care Policy and Research, the National Bipartisan Commission on the Future of Medicare, the Denver Summit of the Eight, AIDS vaccine development, the FDA Modernization Act of 1997, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPPA), and the nomination and appointment of Dr. Jane E. Henney as Commissioner of the FDA in 1998.

Records related to the environment and agriculture address topics such as the Clean Air Act, Kyoto Protocols, Earth Day, climate change, the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the Exxon Valdez oil spill, farm reform, and milk sales.

There are also materials covering developments in energy, biotechnology, trade issues including genetic discrimination, human cloning and genome project, stem cells, export control, G-7 and G-8 summits, and international trade policy.

System of Arrangement

This series of records is from Gore Vice Presidential Records: White House Staff Member and Office Files.

Staff Member and Office Files are the textual records created and/or maintained by White House staff members within their individual offices. These files document all levels of administration activity.

Records in this series have been systematically processed and arranged based on the five-digit Oversize Attachment/Identification (OA/ID) box numbers assigned to the records by the White House Office of Records Management during the Clinton Administration. The original order of the records within the boxes as they were received by the White House Office of Records Management has been maintained while arranging, preserving, reviewing, and describing the materials in preparation for making them available to the public.
