

EXECUTION COPY

To whom it may concern,

The U.S. National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) has agreed to and accepted the Google Terms of Service set forth at www.google.com/intl/en/policies/terms ("Google Terms"). Google Inc. and NARA hereby agreed to amend the terms of the Google Terms as set forth below:

1. Business Users of our Services. The Section titled "Business users of our Services" is hereby amended by adding the following language immediately following the last sentence therein:

"Notwithstanding the above, any third party claims against Google stemming from (i) your data or your domain names; (ii) your brand features infringing on or misappropriating any patent, copyright, trade secret, or trademark of a third party; or (iii) your use of the Services in violation of the Google Terms shall be governed by the procedures and limitations set forth in the U.S. Federal Tort Claims Act or applicable Federal law."

2. About These Terms. The Section titled "About these Terms" is hereby amended by deleting the sixth paragraph in its entirety and replacing it with the following new paragraph:

"These terms will be governed by and interpreted and enforced in accordance with the laws of the United States of America without reference to conflict of laws. To the extent permitted by federal law the laws of the State of California (excluding California's choice of law rules) will apply in the absence of applicable federal law."

3. General. Except as otherwise explicitly set forth above, the Google Terms shall remain in full force and effect.
