Discussion

H.J.Res. 412 authorizes and requests the President to proclaim "Amelia Earhart Day" on May 20, 1982, fifty years after she became the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic Ocean. She accomplished that feat on May 20-21, 1932, between Harbour Grace, Newfoundland, and Ireland.

Ms. Earhart was also, in 1928, the first woman passenger to cross the Atlantic. In 1935, she became the first person to fly solo from Hawaii to the U.S. mainland, a longer distance than from the United States to Europe. She also set numerous speed and altitude records in various airplanes and autogiros, forerunners of the helicopter. She became the first woman in American history to be awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

In June 1937, she attempted the first round-the-world flight near the equator. After completing more than two-thirds of the distance, her plane vanished after taking off from New Guinea for Howland Island in the South Pacific.

Ms. Earhart is one of the world's most celebrated aviators, and, through her exploits, encouraged the development of commercial aviation. She took an active part in efforts to open aviation to women.

A draft proclamation is attached for your consideration.

AMELIA EARHART DAY

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

The first woman to fly across the Atlantic Ocean was Amelia Earhart on May 20-21, 1932. She set numerous aerial records between the years 1928 and 1935.

She was widely hailed as an aviator and was an inspiring example of the continuing ability of men and women to surpass previous accomplishments.

Her exploits in aviation have earned her the recognition of being the first woman in American history to be awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Recognizing her great accomplishment, the Congress has by joint resolution (H.J. Res. 412) called upon the President to designate May 20, 1982, as "Amelia Earhart Day," as a tribute to that most daring of the pioneer women aviators.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim May 20, 1982, as Amelia Earhart Day.

I call upon Federal, State, and local government agencies and the people of the United States to observe such day with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred eighty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and sixth.
