	STRAIGHT NUMBER FILES Prior to the establishment of the duplex-numeric system, DOJ employed a straight numerical filing system under which each case or subject was given a consecutive number with no distinction as to class, nature, or subject. The system was initiated in 1903. Although the straight number files gradually became much less significant after 1912, no uniform rule was applied to divide material between them and the classified subject files of the duplex-numeric system. In addition, several straight number files came to operate like the classified subject files, with individual case files being created under a straight number representing a particular statute or subject. This schedule supersedes Job No. NC1-60-78-1, items 103-06 of which cover straight number files. NOTE: Disposition instructions for GENERAL FILES ("O" subs) relating to the following straight numbers are provided by Item 14 of this schedule.

*Copies sent to NCF, NMT

13. 236702 - War Contract Hardship Claims Act (Lucas Act)

This classification covers civil suits brought by contractors against the U.S. government to recover losses incurred in the performance of various government contracts during World War II. These cases are based on appeals under the Lucas Act of adverse decisions of the War Department's Hardship Claims Board.

A. Multi-section case files and related enclosures.

Disposition: PERMANENT. Transfer to WNRC one year after close of case. Transfer to the National Archives in five-year blocks 30 years after close of case.

B. Single-section case files and related enclosures.

Disposition: Transfer to WNRC one year after close of case. Destroy 15 years after close of case.

14. GENERAL FILES

General files are identified by standard sub-numbers (identified as "0" subs), each of which represents a definite category applicable to all classes. These sub-numbers may be used immediately after the standard primary class number, after the standard secondary district number, or in other combinations according to the rules of the particular classification. The files themselves are arranged chronologically.

While the use of an "0" normally is an indicator of a general file, there is a basic exception to this rule. In instances in which the "0" is followed by another number, the "0" designates a category of case files, and the following number (i.e., New Sub, representing a new subject) identifies a specific case file.

- A. 04 - Executive orders and presidential proclamations
012 - Policies and procedures
016 - Definitions and interpretations

Disposition: PERMANENT. Transfer to WNRC as space requirements and frequency of use dictate. Transfer to the National Archives in five-year blocks when 30 years old.

- B. All other general files (exclusive of 04, 012, and 016) covered by this schedule.

Disposition: Transfer to WNRC as space requirements and frequency of use dictate. Destroy when 10 years old.
