The Act required all aliens (except those with diplomatic status) residing in the United States to register and complete an AR-2. The AR-2 required aliens to list whether they were members of any subversive groups (e.g., American Bund Party) and state their allegiance to the United States. These forms were reviewed by the FBI in order to identify potential subversives and aliens sympathetic to the Axis. Approximately 6,500,000 AR-2 forms were completed and are the genesis of the present day A-File. The forms were discontinued at the end of World War II. The forms are arranged numerically on 5,812 16mm reels (1940-45). Disposition: PERMANENT. Retire the original negative to archival storage at the Washington National Records Center.
