	The Foreign Claims Settlement Commission (FCSC) was established in 1954 (69 Stat. 1279) to continue the functions of its predecessors in determining claims of United States nationals against foreign governments for property losses and injuries pursuant to the claims programs authorized under the International Claims Settlement Act of 1949, as amended.
	Claims against the Soviet Government were not possible until the official recognition of the USSR by thesUS in November, 1933. At that time, the USSR designated the US Government as the assignee for any amounts due the Soviet Government as the successor to previous Russian Governments. Any funds subsequently recovered by the US Government under this agreement (referred to as the Litvinov Assignment) were designated by PL 84-285 to be deposited into the Soviet Claims Fund in the Treasury for the payment of claims. The records in the following accession represent the Justice Department's files on lawsuits in which the US Government tried to claim those funds due it under the Litvinov Assignment. The files were later sent to the FCSC to aid in its
