CHAPTER 1. RECORDS COMMON TO MOST OFFICES

SECTION 1. OFFICE GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE FILES

~~101-01~~ Files Maintenance and Disposition Plans. Documents such as OJP Form 1337/1 which reflect file categories, disposal instructions, and other information about the files accumulated in individual file stations.

Destroy upon receipt of a revised plan or discontinuance of the plan.

~~101-02~~ Records Retirement Lists. Copies of documents created in retiring files to the Records Center or similar records storage areas. Included are Standard Forms 135 or similar lists, and related papers. (NOTE: A record copy of these documents is permanently retained by the OJP Records Officer as provided in 203-09.)

Retain in active files until all records listed thereon have been destroyed; or destroy on discontinuance, whichever is first.

~~101-03~~ Suspense Files. Papers arranged in chronological order as a reminder that an action is required on a given date; a reply to action is expected and if not received should be traced on a given date; or a transitory paper being held for reference which may be destroyed on a given date. Examples of papers in suspense files are:

- a. A note or other reminder to submit a report or to take some other action.
- b. The file copy, or an extra copy of an outgoing communication, filed by the date on which a reply is expected.
- c. Papers which may be destroyed in 30 days or less as being without further value.

Destroy after action is taken.

Withdraw papers when reply is received. If suspense copy is an extra copy, destroy it; if it is the file copy, incorporate it with other papers for file.

Destroy on date under which suspended.

DESCRIPTION OF RECORDS

DISPOSAL INSTRUCTIONS

~~Transitory Files. Papers of short term interest which have no documentary or evidential value and normally need not be kept more than 90 days. Examples of transitory correspondence are shown below:~~

Destroy after 90 days.

- ~~a. Requests for Information or Publications. Routine requests for information or publications which require no administrative action, no policy decisions, and no special compilations or research for reply, such as requests for publications or other printed material.~~
- ~~b. Letters of Transmittal. Letters of transmittal that do not add any information to that contained in the transmittal material.~~
- ~~c. Quasi-Official Notices. Memoranda and other papers that do not serve as the basis of official actions, such as notices of holidays or charity and welfare fund appeals, bond campaigns, and similar papers.~~

Recordkeepers shall combine the types of temporary material shown above into one transitory file arranged chronologically. If the volume warrants using more than one folder, four folders labeled as follows may be used:

Transitory (JAN - MAY - SEP)
Transitory (FEB - JUN - OCT)
Transitory (MAR - JUL - NOV)
Transitory (APR - AUG - DEC)

A folder is used for each month. At the beginning of each month, the folder used the previous month is placed behind the other three, until all four folders have been used. At the beginning of the fifth month, the contents of the folder containing the oldest material are destroyed and the folder reused for the current month.

Destroy when superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed for reference.

~~101-06~~

Office Organization Reference Files. Documents relating to the organization and function of an office. Included are copies of organization and functional charts and functional statements; documents relating to office staffing; documents concerning functional assignments and changes. Also included are documents reflecting minor changes in the office organization or functional assignments which are made by the office chief.

Cutoff at close of fiscal year.
Destroy after 2 years.

Office Administrative Files. Documents accumulated by individual offices that relate to the routine internal management or general administration rather than the function for which the office exists. These records may include copies of correspondence and reports which are prepared in the office and forwarded to higher levels and other materials that do not serve as official documentation. Includes also papers relating to obtaining housekeeping-type services from the offices responsible for providing them. If volume warrants, these files may be arranged by the OJP subject-numeric classification system or the files may be arranged according to the type of material as shown below:

- a. Office General Management Files which include documents concerning internal office procedures, hours of duty, participation on charitable affairs, security and protective services, safety, involvement in similar matters not pertaining to the mission or function of the office.

reports of attendance and overtime, notices of holidays and hours worked; notices and lists of persons to attend training sessions; papers concerning participation in employee and community affairs, campaigns, drives; and comparable or related papers. Arranged as appropriate. If volume warrants, papers can be arranged by subject-numeric classification system.

~~101-09~~

Office Individual Personnel Files. Unofficial personnel folders ("operating folders") maintained by SPECIFICALLY DESIGNATED offices consist of documents which are duplicates of papers placed in official personnel folders maintained in the OJP Personnel Office or which are not appropriate for inclusion in the official personnel folders. Includes such papers as copies of security clearance, records reflecting training received, awards received, letters of appreciation/commendation, position descriptions, performance appraisals and comparable papers. Folders arranged alphabetically by employee name. NOTE: Offices not specifically designated to maintain operating folders MUST NOT create or maintain them.

Review file periodically to destroy documents which have been superseded or are no longer applicable. Destroy entire file 1 year after transfer or separation of employee.

~~101-10~~

Office Personnel Locator Files. Documents reflecting the name, address, telephone number, and similar data for each office employee. Included are cards or sheets containing such information.

Destroy on separation or transfer of the individual.

~~101-11~~

Job Description Files. Documents describing positions in an office that are used in day-to-day supervisory relationships. Included are office copies of job descriptions. Record copies are maintained in the Personnel Office in accordance with item 404-01.

Destroy on abolishment of position, supersession of job description, or when no longer needed for reference.

~~Reading or Chronological Files. Extra copies of correspondence prepared and maintained by the originating office, used solely as a reading or reference file for the convenience of personnel.~~

~~Cutoff at close of fiscal year.
Destroy after 1 year or after reference value has been exhausted, whichever is sooner.~~

~~Exception: Applicable to the Assistant Attorney General's chronological file of outgoing correspondence comprised of letters signed by the AAG or copies of significant letters dispatched at lower levels but forwarded for personal information of the AAG. See Standard 201-01.~~

~~101-13~~

~~Policy and Precedent Reference Files. Copies of documents establishing policy or precedents pertinent to future and continuing actions. Normally, policy and precedent files are maintained at operating levels and consist of extra copies of operating procedures, statements of policy or procedure, examples of typical cases, and other documents duplicated in official files. Original or official record copies, will NOT be placed in this file. This file consists of non-record copies maintained only for convenience of reference.~~

~~Destroy when organizational unit is discontinued or when documents become obsolete or are no longer needed for operating or reference purposes.~~

~~101-14~~

~~Alphabetical Name Index. Extra copy files used as a finding aid for large subject file collections. Consists of extra copies of outgoing letters of a distinctive color or quick copies arranged alphabetically by names of persons or organizations referred to in the outgoing correspondence. The name index copy is marked with same file designation as the official file copy. It is used when records are frequently requested by the names of individuals or organizations concerned rather than by subject.~~

~~Destroy at the same time the related subject file is destroyed, or earlier if no longer needed for reference purposes.~~
