1	Older Records Collected by the Historian. The USMS Historian, in writing a history of the Service, received quantities of older records from various district offices. These records are now stored, in part, in the Service's Springfield warehouse. Note: All of the series contain fragmentary, duplicative, or non-record materials. This schedule grants authority to NARA to dispose of all materials which include, but are not limited to, the items listed above, without further notification to the agency.
1	Ledgers and bound volumes, ca. 1890-1930. The bulk of of these are from the Montana District Office and date between 1890 and 1920. Included are docket volumes related to serving of warrants and prisoner transportation itineraries and expenses.

Arrangement: Roughly by district office of origin
Closed series: Approximately 20 linear feet of volumes, many oversized.

Permanent. Transfer to the National Archives
immediately upon approval of this schedule.

2 Records of various district offices, ca. 1880-1940. Records consist of correspondence between USMS District Offices and headquarters, United States District and Territorial Courts. The overwhelming majority, dated between the late 1880s and the late 1920s, are from the Montana District Marshal. Other offices include, but are not limited to the District of Columbia comprising several boxes from the 1930s. The Historian's office has an incomplete listing of these records.

Arrangement: Roughly by district office.
Volume: Roughly 60 cu. ft.

Permanent. Transfer to the National Archives
immediately upon approval of this schedule.

3. Significant events files. These files were created by the historian in writing his history of the Marshals Service, and document two of the USMS most famous cases during the last half of the 20th Century: protection of James Meredith (Ole Miss case) and the events of the seige of Wounded Knee. Mixed audiovisual material, transcripts of witnesses' statements, and miscellaneous Marshals records.

Arrangement: By event, thereunder in no particular order.
Volume: Roughly 20 cu. ft.

Permanent. Transfer to the National Archives
immediately upon approval of this schedule.
