All reported pricing data as required are entered into computerized data bases, and, by a series of data manipulations, producer price indexes for various commodities or industries are generated.There are two types of schedules involved in this monthly reporting process. (1) Monthly Shuttle Schedules reported by sampled establishments and related establishment worksheets under the commodity-oriented Producer Price (former Wholesale Price) Index System. This system is being phased-out, and by 1986 all indexes for mining and manufacturing industries will be based on a revised industry-product pricing system (the Producer Price Index Revision).(2) Monthly Repricing Schedules from sampled establishments under the Producer Price Index Revision System.Retention Period. Destroy when 5 months old. | 9 GRS OR SUPERSEDED JOB CITATIONNN170-100ITEM 57a | 10 ACTION TAKEN (NARS USE ONLY)1 Item |
