Geographic Information System

System Description:

GIS technology provides a tool for effective trust asset management and has been used since 1984. Sites, linear features and boundaries are represented by points, lines and polygons that have spatial coordinates, names and other descriptive attributes. The data is organized by category or layer (e.g. hydrography, transportation, reservation boundaries). Each layer of data represents the best available information. Most layers cover Indian lands in Alaska and the contiguous US. Data is updated as new information becomes available.

Files are generally stored by reservation in directories that are further organized by BIA region.

- a. Inputs: Include map data from various map sources that is digitized, keyed, scanned and migrated into the system.

Disposition: Apply disposition instructions approved for paper and microfilm records.

- b. Master Data Files:

The data is organized by category or layer (e.g. hydrography, transportation, reservation boundaries).

Disposition: PERMANENT. Create duplicate copy of records off-line and physically transfer to the National Archives upon approval of this schedule in accordance with NARA instructions and guidance. ~~Subsequent legal transfer of the records will be as jointly agreed to between DOI and NARA, in accordance with regulations currently cited in 36 CFR 1228.270.~~

- c. Outputs:

Case file specific queries, sorts, reports, tables and related records and data compilation reports (e.g., management reports and plans) that are created for case files, studies, inquiries, inspections, and related program files.

Disposition: Apply disposition instructions approved for paper and microfilm program records.
