Background Information The SEC Division of Enforcement (ENF) investigates possible violations of securities laws and recommends the appropriate legal action to be taken by the Commission. The Division maintains a web-based case tracking system, known as the Hub, which has been in use since 2007. Hub replaced the previous case tracking system known as CATS 2000. The data contained in CATS 2000, which spanned from the 1970's to the time of the system's decommissioning, was entirely migrated into Hub. In addition to the system's ongoing use, the data contained in the Hub also serves as a reference repository for past Commission enforcement actions against entities or individuals, and the ongoing enforcement or tracking of any previously ordered sanctions.

1	Master File Disposition Authority Number DAA-0266-2019-0001-0001 The Hub case tracking system gives the Division the ability to track information about all ENF matters nationwide, including Matters Under Inquiry (MUIs), Investigations (INV), and related actions, including litigation, collections, distributions, and any other post-judgment activities. The information contained in the case tracking system includes the matter name and assigned tracking number, matter origin, parties related to matter, and witnesses, staff notes, the ongoing progress and status of a case, and the opening and closing reports.
