FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

Origin and Establishment

The Commission was created as an independent regulatory agency on August 12, 1961, by Reorganization Plan No. 7 of 1961. This plan abolished the existing Federal Maritime Board (a component of the Department of Commerce, which then had responsibility for both functions) and established two separate maritime agencies - the Federal Maritime Commission to regulate the ocean commerce of the United States, and the Maritime Administration (which remained within the Department of Commerce) to promote the U. S. merchant marine.

The Commission was charged by Congress with responsibility for implementing a number of Federal statutes that are basically concerned with regulating both U. S. and foreign shipping lines engaged in carrying our country's import and export trade by water, certain closely related activities such as ocean freight forwarding and

	- 41 - The system design concept of the Marine Information System (MARIS) consisted of creating separate subsystems for each major area of data responsibility. Each of the subsystems was designed to interact with each of the other subsystems (except Freight Forwarders) and each subsystem has its own file maintenance capability, providing an automated recordkeeping operation for each area of data responsibility. Data generated within the Commission was encoded for automated processing and retrieval including information on tariffs, agreements, vessel certifications and freight forwarders. These records are integrated with monthly Bureau of Census vessel and commodity movement data to provide a broad range of up-to-date information, including the number, types, itineraries and operators of all vessels in the U. S. foreign commerce; the volume of movement by commodity, vessel type and carrier between any combination of U. S. and foreign ports; and the market share by commodity of individual liner carriers, conferences, nationalities in any U. S. foreign trade. The system screens all cargo movements against tariff records to insure compliance with statutes requiring tariff filings and to provide an accurate determination of liner and non-liner cargo movements. It is used to signal significant shifts in ocean traffic patterns and monitor the operation of cargo pools. By agreement with the Bureau of Census, the Commission is prohibited from divulging any information developed from Census and vessel commodity movement data which would identify the commercial activities of individual companies or persons. Files in this office are created and maintained pursuant to General Records Schedule No. 20 (Data Automation Program Records). BUREAU OF ENFORCEMENT (Washington, D. C. and Field Offices) The Bureau of Enforcement is responsible for program development, administration, and activities in connection with the investigation of common carriers by water in the foreign and domestic offshore commerce of the United States, conferences of such carriers, freight forwarders, terminal operators, and other persons subject to the regulatory jurisdiction of the Federal Maritime Commission.	see revision pp. 42-50

	- 47 - 96. MARITIME INFORMATION SYSTEM The system design concept of the Maritime Information System (MARIS) consisted of creating separate subsystems for each major area of data responsibility. Each of the subsystems was designed to interact with each of the other subsystems (except Freight Forwarders) and each subsystem has its own file maintenance capability, providing an automated record-keeping operation for each area of data responsibility. Data generated within the Commission was encoded for automated processing and retrieval including information on tariffs, agreements, vessel certifications and freight forwarders. These records are integrated with monthly Bureau of Census vessel and commodity movement data to provide a broad range of up-to-date information, including the number, types, itineraries and operators of all vessels in U.S. foreign commerce; the volume of movement by commodity, vessel type and carrier between any combination of U.S. and foreign ports; and the market share by commodity of individual liner carriers, conferences, or nationalities in any U.S. foreign trade. The system screens all cargo movements against tariff records to insure compliance with statutes requiring tariff filings and to provide an accurate determination of liner and non-liner cargo movements. It is used to signal significant shifts in ocean traffic patterns and monitor the operation of cargo pools. By agreement with the Bureau of the Census, the Commission is prohibited from divulging any information developed from Census and vessel commodity movement data which would identify the commercial activities of individual companies or persons. MARIS is composed of the following major files: A. MONTHLY CENSUS VESSEL/COMMODITY SUBSYSTEM This subsystem processes Bureau of Census monthly import/export vessel and detail commodity movement data in conjunction with Commission vessel and tariff data to create comprehensive U.S. foreign oceanborne trade movement files. The data file contains the geographic port pairs representing commodity movements, total short tons and dollar value, by commodity. The movement cannot be related to an operator or vessel, unlike the monthly Census subsystem, but total cargo, by commodity, for port-to-port or coast-to-coast can easily be obtained. This subsystem was implemented in January 1975a DISPOSITION. Destroy when ten years old. C. TARIFF SUBSYSTEM This subsystem provides an automated record keeping system of vessel operating common carrier (VOCC) tariffs on file with the Commission. Information being carried for each tariff includes the tariff name, effective date, carriers involved, geographic trade route and various characteristics such as type of tariff, direction and service. This tariff subsystem has been operational since 1974. DISPOSITION. Destroy after three update cycles or when superseded.

The data contains agreement names, members involved, effective and expiration dates, geographic trade routes and various characteristics such as type of agreement, direction, service and voting matters. Coverage began in September, 1974. DISPOSITION. Destroy after three update cycles or when superseded. E. OIL SPILL SUBSYSTEM This subsystem provides an automated record-keeping system on applications for certification of vessels entering U.S. waters. Certificates of financial responsibility including insurance coverage are required on vessels that are 300 gross tons or over. The system monitors the status of each application, including each vessel within an application. The data contains applicant name and address, applicant nationality, vessel name, vessel type, gross tons, flag and underwriter.
