Description:

The Environmental Information Management System (EIMS) (www.epa.gov/eims) provides a metadata repository about EPA projects, data sets, databases, models, and documents used or created during various environmental projects. Using common Web browser software, users may conduct searches for specific data, locate descriptive information about environmental project resources, and download (or be connected to) the resulting data, models, and/or other documents for local usage. Data entry is done via forms that store the information into the EIMS database. Metadata reports can be generated by the system to provide metadata information for that particular EIMS record.

Disposition Instructions:

Item a: Electronic software program

- Disposable
- Delete when superseded by routine software updates and quality assurance check is completed, or when no longer needed.
