Background Information

The National Indian Gaming Commission (NIGC) was created in 1988 with the passage of the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (IGRA), which was enacted to support and promote tribal economic development, self-sufficiency, and strong tribal governments through the operation of gaming on Indian lands. The Act provides a statutory basis for the federal regulation of Indian gaming. IGRA establishes the Commission to regulate and support tribal gaming as a means of generating revenue for tribal communities. See 25 U.S.C. § 2704.

The NIGC is committed to fulfilling its responsibilities by:

- regulating and monitoring certain aspects of Indian gaming;
- coordinating its regulatory responsibilities with tribal regulatory agencies
- providing training and technical assistance to tribal regulatory agencies;
- reviewing and approving tribal gaming ordinances and management agreements;
- reviewing the backgrounds of individuals and entities to ensure the suitability of those seeking to manage or invest in Indian gaming;
- overseeing and reviewing the conduct and regulation of Indian gaming operations;
- enforcing violations against the IGRA and its regulations; and
- referring law enforcement matters to appropriate tribal, Federal, and state entities.

The NIGC is comprised of a Chair, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, and two additional commissioners appointed by the Secretary of the Interior. The NIGC's organizational structure is composed of two main branches, the Office of General Counsel which handles legal affairs, and the Office of the Chief of Staff, which manages day-to-day activities and includes the Division of Compliance, Division of Finance, Division of Public Affairs, and the Division of Technology.

The Bill Quick system enables the agency to track the costs and billing of background investigations of management contractors in accordance with 25 CFR 533 and 537 and to track the reimbursable fund activity as outlined in the agency's annual budget justifications to Congress.
